Happy People

The first system of the musical score consists of a grand staff with a treble clef on the upper staff and a bass clef on the lower staff. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The treble staff contains a melodic line with eighth and quarter notes, and a series of chords. The bass staff contains a bass line with chords and single notes. The lyrics are: "be waiting a long time and I wait for you to tell me everything's alright". A dashed line indicates the end of the line. A "*coda" symbol is located at the end of the treble staff.

be waiting a long time and I wait for you to tell me everything's alright -----

*coda

The second system of the musical score continues the grand staff. It features a repeat sign with first and second endings. The lyrics are: "cause it doesn't feel alright". A dashed line indicates the end of the line. A "*dc al coda" symbol is located above the first ending.

*dc al coda

cause it doesn't feel alright -----

The third system of the musical score continues the grand staff. The lyrics are: "nothing feels alright alright...". A dashed line indicates the end of the line.

nothing feels alright alright.....

The fourth system of the musical score continues the grand staff. The lyrics are: "so is that alright..... with you.....?". A dashed line indicates the end of the line.

so is that alright..... with you.....?
